ROBERT R. BERLUTI

Small enough for individualized attention and large enough to produce results, Berluti & McLaughlin is designed to meet the ongoing needs of businesses and their owners. Located in Boston, the firm provides a broad range of services to diverse enterprises, from advising start-ups to helping dissolve long-time partnerships.

"We are a cradle-to-grave practice," says founder Robert Berluti. "We help people and entities deal with their corporate, real estate, acquisitions, employment and financial matters. We focus on a company's immediate needs and help them look to the future to anticipate issues, to maximize returns and, hopefully, to avoid conflict."

COMPREHENSIVE LEGAL SERVICES FOR BUSINESSES AND INDIVIDUALS.

The firm of nine attorneys includes Berluti and the firm's other partner, John McLaughlin, who was Berluti's college roommate. "John advises our business clients on operational and transactional matters," Berluti explains, "while I handle the litigation issues. We're a well-rounded practice."

Berluti, named one of this year's Super Lawyers, loves the challenge and real-time excitement of trying cases. "Unlike many other business law firms," he notes, "we are fully prepared to try cases to conclusion. We take pride in being trial attorneys. Our clients choose us because of our track record of success; we have the intellect, intensity and integrity to achieve excellent results; and we are more cost effective than larger firms."

Among an array of commercial disputes, Berluti spends a good share of his time working with clients dissolving their business relationships. Often they are family members or long-time business partners. "These are never simple disputes," he says. "They encompass many years of relationships. Often, it's like a corporate divorce. These cases can be an emotional rollercoaster."

Berluti believes thorough preparation permits timely and prudent decisions throughout the trial. "Our law firm has the experience and passion for superior representation through all stages and aspects of a business dispute. That's what sets us apart from other firms."

Why has the firm been so successful? Berluti believes that — like a good business — a good law firm is built on solid relationships. "Many of our loyal clients view us as their long-term strategic partner for all their significant needs," he says. "I believe my role is to be their proactive legal advisor and trusted navigator for life."
